St Albans City Football Club sold to new owners

A new era opens for The Saints

Troubled local football club St Albans City has been sold to new owners. Two local businessmen: Lawrence Levy and John McGowan.

Well known for his community and charity work as well as for his love of football Lawrence said "We are delighted to have bought St Albans City Football Club from John Gibson and are really looking forward to re-building it with the support of the fans and the local community. John McGowan and I have big plans for the future and believe that The Saints will once again attract the large gates they once did."

John McGowan added "Lawrence and I are here for the long term and we are investing in the future of the club. We want to work with the supporters and will be talking to them over the coming weeks and months to ensure that they are happy with the changes. But we will also be talking to schools and local businesses to get them involved."

Come along to our business breakfast at The Peahen and hear how Lawrence and John plan to take the club forward, and find out how your business can get involved. There will be an opportunity to ask questions
